Workers' Compensation and Disability Benefits Coverage Requirements for Members of Religious Organizations

If an enterprise is not owned by a religious organization itself, but instead is owned by an individual, partnership, corporation, etc., then the enterprise must abide by the regular New York State coverage requirements for workers' compensation and disability benefits insurance.

In other words, if someone owns a business, it doesn't matter if he/she is Amish, Buddhist, Catholic, Christian Scientist, Hindu, Jehovah Witness, Jewish, Mennonite, Mormon, Muslim, Protestant, or a member of any other religion: regular New York State coverage requirements for workers' compensation and disability benefits insurance apply to that business. Further, the private business is not covered by either the church's insurance or a declaration by the church that its members are self-insured.

Workers' Compensation Coverage Requirements for Religious Organizations

Workers' compensation insurance coverage is not required for a religious organization that only pays its (including sextons), and/or teachers, and/or individuals providing non-manual labor.

To be exempt, must only perform religious duties, and the teachers must only perform teaching duties, Manual labor includes, but is not limited to, tasks such as filing; carrying materials (e.g., pamphlets, binders, or books); cleaning such as dusting or vacuuming; playing musical instruments; moving furniture; shoveling snow; mowing lawns; and construction of any sort.
